For the wireframes, I wanted a clean, simple website that also had all the necessary information. I love the look of the name at the top with simple links to each of the pages underneath, and thus I went with that for my design. I was very inspired by Professional Writing alumna Katelin M. Mcardle's website (<http://kmmcardle.weebly.com/>). I think it so clean and pretty, and at the same time all of the information is easy to find, and the layout is very intuitive, which is what I was aiming for with my design.
